VOLUNTEER DE-TAILS

Purrs and puppy kisses to Donna and Hailey Lane, dedicated animal enrichment volunteers! This duo has been volunteering at KHS since January of this year, giving treats, toys and love to all of the animals in the shelter as they await their forever home.

The adoptions staff would like to thank Katie Putnuff for assisting with the adoption matchmaker program. Since the beginning of the year, Katie has volunteered more than 40 hours with KHS, helping potential adopters find the perfect match for their next pet.

The behavior department extends their thanks to all of the behavior trainers, but would like to give a special thanks to Heike Purdon. Heike has been volunteering with the KHS behavior department for more than seven years and is currently helping the department by teaching extra Manners for Life and Feisty Fido classes. KHS is lucky to have longtime volunteers like her!

The S.N.I.P. Clinic would like to spotlight volunteer Rebecca Kelly. Rebecca assists in the office answering phones and scheduling appointments and also with recovery, helping vet staff as animals finish their surgery. She also put together a binder of helpful reference information for other office volunteers to use. She is extremely professional and friendly and has been a great asset to the clinic.

The Kentucky Humane Society relies on the generosity of our wonderful volunteers. From canine coaches to foster care parents, we couldn't do it without you!

ASK THE EXPERTS

KHS Staff Answer Your Questions

Q. I've been wanting to take my dog out to the park for walks now that the weather is so lovely. Bruno is really friendly with other dogs and usually comes back when I call him. Is it ok to let him off leash to play in our public parks?

A. We have a great park system in Louisville and it is wonderful when dog owners take advantage of it. However, there are some rules of "doggie etiquette" that everyone should follow so that all patrons can enjoy our public spaces.

All dogs must be kept on-leash in public. Leash laws exist for public safety. Even if your dog is friendly, there is no guarantee that all the other dogs you encounter on a walk share that trait. For some dogs, it can be very scary to be confined on a leash while a loose dog runs up. This can increase the leashed dog's anxiety and can even lead to a fight. Additionally, many people are uncomfortable with dogs and may react fearfully if approached by an unknown dog.

There are great, safe outlets for your dog to play off-leash. Consider a membership with the Louisville Dog Run Association. You will have access to safe, enclosed, off-leash play areas that are frequented by scores of friendly dogs every day. As an added bonus, you can be sure that any dogs you meet there are up to date on all their vaccinations.

Just as a reminder, any time you take your dog to a public space for a walk, be sure to bring bags to clean up your dog's waste. It is also a great idea to bring water and a bowl in order to keep your pet hydrated. Finally, consider enrolling in a positive reinforcement based training class in order to teach your dog loose leash walking skills so that your outings are safe and enjoyable for you as well as for your furry friend.

FROM THE DESK OF

Lori Kane Redmon, President-CEO

Dear Friend,

Let me begin by saying, "Thank you." As a private, non-profit that does not depend on city, state or federal tax dollars, we could not do our work without your support.

If you've followed the news lately, you're probably aware of our decision not to bid for the contract to run Louisville Metro Animal Services (LMAS). Before I explain our decision, I want to address the negativity that has unnecessarily clouded the atmosphere. Public in-fighting, motive-questioning and name-calling by animal groups does not help the creatures we want to save. I've tried to stay above the fray, not just to protect the good reputation of KHS but, more important, the animals that will be hurt if the public grows weary of sniping by people they rightly feel should be more worried about dogs and cats than turf battles. Groups like Alley Cat Advocates or Saving Sunny among many others and the hundreds of volunteers who help everywhere all have this in common: We love animals. We may have different goals and means of achieving them, but we should never forget that common ground.

After a great deal of deliberation, KHS chose not to bid for LMAS for several reasons: We didn't believe the city had a sustainable facilities plan; we were concerned about the lack of an end date for the LMAS's admittedly inadequate Manslick facility and no defined plan to raise money for another facility; and the lack of time to implement a plan for the short-term use of Manslick as well as the appropriate handling of animals (including livestock and wildlife) in the current structure.

Instead, we will continue to strengthen our relationship with LMAS and pursue positive relationship with other animal groups. We will continue to transfer animals from LMAS to our nine adoption sites. We will continue to evaluate animals at LMAS facilities and we will continue reducing the number of dogs and cats sent to all Louisville-area shelters by offering low-cost spay and neuter services to our community. As the old saying goes, you can get a lot accomplished when you don't worry about who gets the credit. We have so many strong organizations and committed individuals in the Louisville and Southern Indiana area – may the rest of 2011 and beyond see us do an even better job of working together for the sake of our beloved animals and the communities we serve.

Sincerely,

FROM THE MAILBOX: Sharing "Happy Tails" And More!

King of the Couch

After great amounts of thought and consideration, I decided it was time to add a pet to my life recently. Wrapping up the final year of my undergraduate career at University of Louisville, I was ready to take on more responsibility and dedicate my time and love to a "critter" of some sort. After extended research and contemplation, I arrived at the KHS East Campus armed with the names of three dogs I wanted to meet. The second I met Cadence (now known as "Zeke"), I fell in love. He was a "Black Pearl", and was on sale, being a black dog over the age of two-years-old. He was a wild child from day one, and I couldn't help but adore the fact that his mentality matched that of my own — go, go, go! The shelter days are long gone for Zeke; he now lives life as King of the Couch and is nurtured by endless amounts of aunts and uncles and two very proud grandparents. Zeke also enjoys the Tempurpedic mattress, along with sharing a pillow with his mommy. I can't be more thankful for the Kentucky Humane Society. Not only is Zeke my best friend, he's the love of my life. I am forever changed and grateful for his presence in my life. I can't wait for all of our adventures to come!

Finding the perfect fit

We adopted our German Shepherd named Ziva, formerly Selina, at the Kentucky Humane Society in July 2009. She weighed 54 pounds and was so skinny that you could see her ribs and hip bones. We were told she was walking down a street with puppies trailing behind her. Ziva now weighs 95 pounds and is happily living with our four other rescues and our cat. Ziva and Leon, our Australian Shepherd mix, play constantly in our large yard, but want to be inside at night to spend time with the family. They are all indoor/outdoor pets and loved very much. They bring us so much joy. Shelter dogs rock! Thanks to the wonderful people at the Kentucky Humane Society for giving these wonderful pets another chance at life.

Main Campus Grand Reopening

The public gathered at the recently renovated Kentucky Humane Society Main Campus on May 14 to view and tour our beautiful and newly renovated facility for its Grand Reopening! The $2.3 million construction project had been underway for nearly two years, as animals and staff members alike were shuffled around to accommodate construction.

All of the time spent under construction is well worth it now, as attendees of the Grand Reopening could clearly see. Animals are now housed in areas with better ventilation systems and more easily cleaned cages. Several “cat colonies” are available so that the kitties can openly roam and stretch their legs. Even the lobby and adoption area have been improved. The area is more open and welcoming, and the old carpet was removed and replaced with more sensible (for an animal shelter) laminate flooring. The KHS Leadership Team proudly cut the ribbon on the improved Main Campus and invited the public for tours of the facility, kids’ activities, demonstrations, promotions and more! We are thrilled the public can see how far we have come and how well the animals are treated as soon as they enter our doors.

If you still haven’t seen visited the “new” Main Campus, please come by to take a look – and maybe even take home a new four-legged friend as well!

Special thanks to 102.3 The Max for helping us bring people to our doors.

17th Waggin' Trail Walk for the Animals Raises Over $90,000!

The 17th Annual Waggin' Trail Walk for the Animals was a success yet again, with almost 600 runners and walkers participating in the event! With your generous help, KHS raised over $90,000 to support our life-saving mission programs of adoption, spay/neuter and education. And we had a great time doing it with games, contests, music, amazing vendors and adorable adoptable animals! Dogs of every shape and size were there – from Maltese puppies to mutts – to complete the walk in support of the animals.

Congratulations go to “Jamie’s Team” from KFC/YUM! Brands for being our top fundraising team. This special team raised nearly $14,000 to help the animals at KHS! Thanks so much for the hard work and extra efforts that made your amazing contribution possible.

The Waggin' Trail was sponsored by Hill's Science Diet with support from Feeders Supply, 24PetWatch, Footworks, 102.3 The Max, FOX 41, Petango and TailsInc. Special thanks to emcee Tommy Lee and Grand Marshall Barry Bernson.

NEWS BRIEFS: What's Happening at KHS

Tuxes & Tails is August 27th!

Jennifer Bailys

Suzanne Wright and Sam Swope

Don't miss the party for the area's oldest and largest animal welfare group. Join fellow friends of the Kentucky Humane Society for a night on the town with dining, dancing, live and silent auctions, adoptable pets and more!

This year's Tuxes & Tails black tie event will have a Las Vegas theme. But don't worry – what happens at Tuxes & Tails, stays at Tuxes & Tails.

The benefit and gala begins at 6 p.m. with a silent auction, followed by dinner, a live auction, and music provided by DJ Reggie Reg.

Last year, the event raised nearly $150,000 to help fund mission programs including adoptions, education and spay/neuter efforts. Tickets are only $150 each, or $1,800 for a corporate table (8 seats) for a full evening of fun – all to help the animals. Sponsorships are also available.

Taking on the ASPCA $100K Challenge!

The Kentucky Humane Society is one of 50 shelters in the nation gearing up to take on the ASPCA $100K Challenge! In a short three month period - August to October - we've set the aggressive goal to save at least 300 more lives than we did in those same three months last year. If we have a greater increase in lives saved than the other 49 contestants, we win $100,000 to continue our proactive, lifesaving work. In the coming month, we'll roll-out our plan to increase adoptions and help more pets find loving, permanent homes. But we can't do this without your help! Help us spread the word about the adoption option and encourage your family, friends and co-workers to visit our shelters and adoption sites to become involved. Your support will help us achieve this goal!

Animal groups come together to help a special dog find her special family

Elsie was a sweet but aloof American Bulldog lost in a sea of animals at Louisville Metro Animal Services. Pure white and completely deaf but with lots of energy to spare, Elsie would have been difficult to adopt into an appropriate home able to deal with her unique issues. Kentucky Humane Society (KHS) Behavior Leader Kat Rooks saw Elsie as a diamond in the rough and transferred her to KHS for additional training and to be fostered.

Kat began to harness and focus Elsie's energy with some basic behavior training. Since she wasn't able to utilize her usual clicker training method due to Elsie's lack of hearing, Kat instead used a hand signal when she exhibited positive behavior in place of the usual "click."

"Elsie caught on quite quickly to the hand signals related to her good behavior," says Kat. "I do exactly the same thing I would do when clicker training. She exhibits the desired behavior, I give her the hand signal (click) and she gets a treat!"

While working on her training, Kat fostered Elsie in her office so that she could receive more personal care. With her big lumbering legs and the energy of a puppy (even at two-years-old), Elsie was quite the handful! But she quickly became a staff favorite as everyone helped her learn to be the best pup she could be. While KHS was waiting for placement with a bulldog rescue group, Saving Sunny volunteers heard about this sweet girl and knew of a possible perfect home for her. Saving Sunny put Kat in touch with Amanda Meyer, who had been actively looking for a playmate for her young Pit Bull.

"We had met with a few other dogs and it just didn't seem to be a fit," Amanda said. "As soon as we came to the Humane Society that day and saw Elsie, we fell in love."

Amanda and her husband John have many other rescues in their home, including two dogs (Hailey, a Pit Bull, and Blythe, a Border Collie mix), four cats and a 17-year-old horse! Elsie and Hailey have become fast friends and are perfect playmates! Blythe is in her golden years at 11-years-old and Elsie has learned that perhaps she is rarely in the mood for playtime. She has also made a game of playfully chasing the four kitties around the house, though Amanda and John are teaching her that this isn't the greatest idea either.

"We're also working with her so that she can learn ASL (American Sign Language) signs for going outside and other things," Amanda said. She can relate to Elsie's disability as she is half deaf and blind herself. Her ex-fiancé fired a gun at her head, leaving her completely deaf and blind on her right side. But she tremendously survived the incident and, because of it, strives to care for the helpless animals that require just a little extra special effort.

Elsie's story is a wonderful one about what can happen when the animal agencies in our community work together. Because of this network, Elsie found a wonderful home with amazing parents and lots of furry brothers and sisters.

Congratulations Elsie!
